CLASSES

During our high school years, we've all served "Old Man Time," Mr. Bowers.

From 8:00 AM to 3:00 PM and later, there is an inaudible rhythm at H.H.S. Bells ring. Classes Change. Students and teachers laugh, talk, battle, and learn from one another. Besides the facts and figures being compiled, there is a different sense of education occurring. Working together, preparing for the future, and understanding our own capabilities are all combined with our fundamental studies. In 1978, we all made the changes that kept the inside beat of H.H.S. moving toward achievement.

In order to maintain sanity and progress, organization is essential. At Harrisonburg High School, the administration is headed by Mr. Bowers, Principal; Mr. Snyder, Assistant Principal; and Mr. Cummins, Attendance Officer. With the assistance of the office secretaries — Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Hylton, Mrs. Hollen, and Mrs. Estes — these people kept the system running smoothly. Mr. Synder is a new addition to the administration this year. He feels that his new job is a big change from the classroom but one that he has enjoyed. The administration as a whole feels that the students' attitude, cooperation, and willingness to work are the keys to the school's success.

ENGLISH

The English Department has found success in their second year of semester-based English. Seniors enjoyed selecting their English courses. One difference in the program was that Survival English was not offered as a regular class, but as a tutor program under the authority of Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. Wease, and Mr. Breneman.

Some special activities of the English Department included the "Poet-in-the-School Program" and a "Forensics Day", which included demonstrations and explanations of the art of forensics.

SOCIAL STUDIES

In the Social Studies Department, the combined forces of government, world, and U.S. history teachers strove to make us more aware of the past and present state of our world. The U.S. history classes traveled to the New Market Battlefield, where Mr. Mullen reviewed the occurences of Mr. Buhl's childhood. On March 16, the senior classes traveled to Washington D.C., despite the snow. The FBI building, Bureau of Printing and Engraving, and Tyson's Corner were some of the educational sites visited. In the classroom, various methods were used in order to put across a point. Mr. Buhl was famed for his note taking, Coach Boland for his values clarification, and the others for their own special means of communication.

SCIENCE

You may have noticed some changes in the Science Department this year. In order to allow students to take more classes in science, the double periods have been dropped. Although it has taken Mr. Saum some time to adjust to the new system, he invariably ends every class with "Is that the bell already? It couldn't be!" The new setup doesn't seem to be causing any major problems. Along with a new system, a new face has sprung up in the department. It belongs to Mr. Jack Sellers who is the new physics teacher. With such qualified instructors, the Science Department continues to maintain high standards of learning in the program to better prepare students for college and life.

MATH

The math department obtained a computer this year. Wtih its 44 memories and 1,151 programming steps, the computer has proved itself capable of handling most any task. Magnetic cards are used for programming, and any student can obtain one with a teacher's approval. It is hoped that the computer will be more active in the future curriculum. Along with the computer, two new mathematical minds were added to the teaching staff — Mrs. Walsh and Mr. Blackmer.

"Now George, I'd appreciate it if you wouldn't look up THOSE words in your French dictionary."

John Hoover, Steve Hashigushi, and Andy Powell participated in the fourth annual Autumn School Mathematics Competition at J.M.U. John Hoover placed ninth out of 87 participating students.

HOME ECONOMICS

It is apparent from the photographs that Home Ec. is no longer limited to the superior sex; boys are finally getting in on the action. Traditional skills of cooking and sewing have been combined with discussions on personality, family, and parenthood in order to prepare the students for domestic problems. Home Economics attempts to train the student so that he or she will be able to make wise decisions as a consumer. Prices, as well as the quality of products, are investigated as a means of education. Lessons taught on nutrition, housekeeping, and attitudes are basic tools of survival for all individuals — wherever their future may lead.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE

Two new teachers, Mr. Rolon and Mr. Hawkins aided the Foreign Language Department in educating students. Spanish, Latin, German, and French were the languages offered in 1978. The French and Spanish students went to France and Spain, vicariously of course, and took field trips to Washington D.C. on the side. In April, the International Fiesta proved to be successful. Student dishes, skits, and projects produced an opportunity to compare the different characteristics of foreign countries.

MUSIC

The Music Department has been extremely successful this year. Their annual Christmas Assembly contained some of the finest music ever to be heard at Harrisonburg High School. Mrs. Hackman once again presented us with the wonderful Triple Trio and Madrigal Choir, and Mr. Landreth reformed, reshaped, and formed an altogether new image for the H.H.S. band. The musical presented this year was "Gypsy" and, as always, much effort was put forth to produce it.

ART

To new pieces of equipment were bestowed on the Art Department this year. One was a greatly needed ceramics kiln which the students use to fire clay articles. The other was a sensory device called the "texture tunnel," developed by Mr. Olmstead. Inside the tunnel there were samples of cloth, wool, styrofoam, hair, yarn, and sandpaper which helped to create a sensory impression for each student who went through.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

In 1978, the Physical Education Department began to structure their curriculum toward two major objectives. First of all, great emphasis was placed on the idea of "life-time sports." Casting, ping-pong, and tennis were some of the many sports introduced that students could enjoy throughout their lives. In an effort to add some variety to the usual sports in the P.E. curriculum, team sports such as lacrosse and field hockey were added. It was felt that students should have an opportunity to improve and expand their knowledge of sports through participation. Completing the second year of the co-ed program, it is apparent that most Blue Streaks prefer the change. Although there was a slight male hesitation toward mixing girls and guys at the beginning, the girls proved that they were capable of equalling, and in some instances surpassing male competition.

Working with the P.E. program, instructors in Driver's Ed. and Behind the Wheel continued to prepare students for the open road. It has been mentioned that Driver's Ed. set higher standards in 1978 to insure that Blue Streaks would be safe drivers.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION

D.E. provides an opportunity for students to understand and prepare themselves for the business world. With topics ranging from human relations to service technology, students are trained so that they will be able to enter a job directly after high school. In the future, D.E. I will be directed even more toward vocational training. Students will be required to take part in classroom training related to the job in which they are interested.

D.E. III is aiming toward specialization in whatever business field the student selects.

With most students actively involved in a job the DECA organization provides recreational activities for all D.E. students. These students also take part in statewide competition in their areas of interest. This year four students went to Regional competition and placed in their designated categories. Through her work in school and in competition, Toni Emswiller was selected outstanding D.E. student of the year.

BUSINESS

The main objectives of the Business Department are to train effective consumers and efficient office workers. With this goal in mind, new typewriters and various calculators were obtained. Courses range from General Business to Business Law. Students in Clerk Typing I and II can work after school for grade credit and job experience.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The courses of Industrial Arts and Drafting I and II gave students the means to acquire basic skills in craftsmanship and architecture. The H.H.S. Industrial Arts Department believes that every student, male or female, work bound or college bound, can benefit from a course in industrial arts. Students become involved in "hands-on" activities that prepare them for higher education, the world of work, improves their awareness as consumers, and aids them in the selection of their leisure time pursuits.

The students work with a variety of hand and machine tools, and various materials such as plastics, wood, and metal while planning and constructing many useful projects.

VO TECH

Vo Tech is not only concerned with providing students with marketable skills, but also producing highly skilled technicians. Two major changes took place during 1978 at Vo Tech. A new addition to the school was built by students and instructors to include rooms for carpentry and commercial sewing. Another outstanding effort was the Data Processing Center. Both of these projects have proved to be assets in training students

SERVICES

Administration and faculty are essential for school at H.H.S., but there is another group of people that are irreplaceable. The members of Guidance, the Clinic, the Library, the custodial and cafeteria staffs work persistently to maintain the smooth system at H.H.S.

Where would we be without Mrs. Brown, our nurse, to cure our sniffles and sore throats? The clinic deals mainly with minor cases of the flu, but Mrs. Brown is responsible for detecting hearing, visual and dental problems in students. If a student needs information in medical areas, the clinic is prepared to aid in any way possible.

If one word could be chosen to describe the library this year, it would have to be "new." From a new staff to new equipment to new programs, the library has developed a great deal. Included in the new equipment is a color monitor for video taping, a Dukane automatic filmstrip-cassette player, and more drawers for the card catalogue. Once again Mrs.

Hmmmmm — looks like a case of spring fever.

Gunn maintained silence. At H.H.S., the Guidance Department is best known for coordinating students' schedules, but their job entails much more. The future is the major concern of the department. Whatever a student's interests may be, Guidance tries to provide every opportunity for that student to fulfill his interests. Guidance is actively involved in selecting students for scholarships, job placement through various employment agencies, and insuring that each student has ample knowledge and skills to provide for himself after high school.

By far the greatest addition to the department in 1978 was the computer terminal. The machine will provide the student college, job, and financial aid information. In a matter of minutes, a student can find updated information on all these topics. In order to use the terminal, students must only make an appointment and read a phamphlet of instructions. Without a doubt, the terminal will prove itself extremely valuable in the years ahead.

The Last Hurrah: the Senior Banquet

(Top) Hmmm, we're almost finished!!

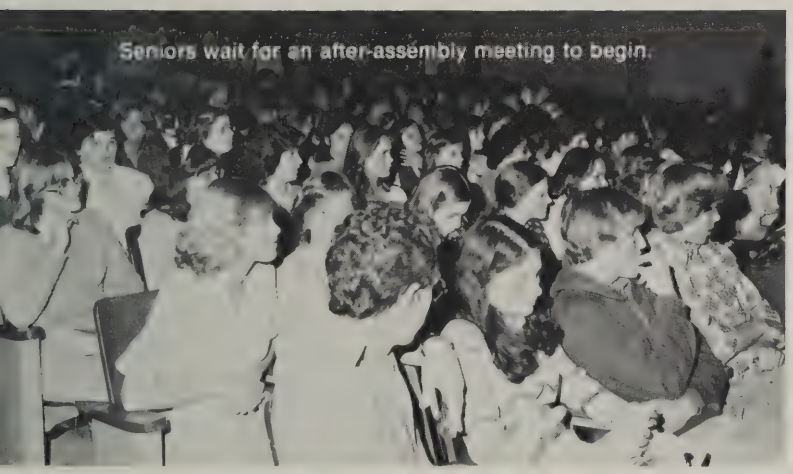
to life now

The Class of 1978 started out their freshman year at H.H.S. by winning Spirit Week. Then, they continued on to win second place in the magazine sale trailing the winning sophomores by less than a dollar. They returned to win the sale in their sophomore year along with the Homecoming Float Contest. Their theme of "Carnival" got them second place in Spirit Week. As juniors, they received second place for their float and in the magazine sale. They raised more money in car washes than ever before at H.H.S. Their theme for Prom was "South Pacific" and was a total success. In their final year at H.H.S. they set quite a few precedents. They presented the first Senior Banquet, Senior Superlatives, and a Senior Picnic. Beginning and ending their years at H.H.S. with enthusiasm, the Seniors of '78 placed second in the magazine skit and sale and first in Spirit Week. It is hoped that this year's seniors will look back at H.H.S. and remember only the good times they had and the friendships that will last through the rest of their lives.

Spirit! Spirit! Who's got the spirit?



Seniors wait for an after-assembly meeting to begin.

Richard Eaton grins waiting for a book to drop.

The men: Jimmy Savides, Jimmy Foley, Thinh Do, Steve Fishel, and Dwayne Jenkins.

Handy shield in the water war

Undoubtedly, the hardest year is the junior year! It is rumored that the school work is the hardest ever during this year. Then, of course, there is prom. The juniors must build up their treasury to enormous proportions in order to be able to meet the monumental cost of that ultimately important dance. The Class of '79 managed, though, and ended up being the richest class in five years. They had an oriental theme and were thoughtful enough to build the prom entrance six inches higher than Ralph Sampson's head.

Remember to wash behind its ears, boys!

But, where's mine?

Sophomores

The class of '80 stressed total representation and participation. One of the most spirited to ever hit the halls of H.H.S., they won the Magazine Sale, the Magazine Skit, the Spirit Stick twice, and led in the sales of Musical Tickets. They also placed 2nd for their Homecoming Float, "Legends in the Making," which was in honor of Coach Claude Warren. For another project to earn a few bucks, the Sophs sold "Class of '80" buttons. All in all, it was a good year for the sophomores and they promise to be a great asset to the school in the future years.

NEXT YEAR

The class of '81 proved to be spirited additions to H.H.S. They won first place for their Homecoming float which was a large tissue covered Blue Streak Zeus stomping on some Handley Judges. They also won the spirit stick a number of times. "Blue Streak Power" bumper stickers upped school spirit and the freshmen treasury. The frosh had numerous bake sales to raise money. All things considered, the Freshmen class promises to leave their mark on Harrisonburg High School.

there are some individuals who put forth extra effort and stand out in the crowd. Some such students are Theresa Murphy, who got 16 buttons on Hush Button Day; Steve Rhodes, who won $100 in the Magazine Sale jackpot; Mary Aldhizer, who was the 1977 Homecoming queen, and lastly (but not leastly), the hard-working Junior Miss participants: Marie Moore — the winner, Brenda Burtner — 1st runner-up and physical fitness winner, and Ramona Schaeffer — scholastic award winner.

T-shirt and Jersey Day was a stupendous success this year. Everyone enjoyed an opportunity to show their style and support the football team. Be it a rock group, a country, an attitude, or one of our own football jerseys; shirts were the means of expression for us crazy kids at H.H.S.

Homecoming activities

Where were you at the Homecoming Dance?

Some memories last forever.

Lack of chairs got everyone on the floor.

There was some doubt this year as to whether or not the Homecoming Parade was going to take place. Frantic announcements on the bulletin pleaded "come and work on your class float." Somehow, though, the floats got done. Freshmen won first place, followed by the sophomores, the seniors, and the juniors. The game was played at JMU, due to extreme rainfall, but this didn't put a damper on the half-time activities. The Homecoming Dance was held on October 29, the day after the parade. The band "Tundra" produced mixed emotions. Despite the fact that there was a "Marshall Tucker" concert at JMU the same night, the turn-out for the dance was good. Probably the most interesting thing about this year's dance was the variety of ways that dates were obtained. Methods ranged from the traditional boy-asks-girl, to bribery, to asking the principal's assistance in calling up a date.

Spirit Week! Rah! Rah! Rah!

Participation was excellent for the fall Spirit Days this year. So many of our silent Blue Streak boys picked up hush buttons that more had to be manufactured during the day. Theresa Murphy used her charm and right hook to obtain the most buttons (16), and she won an absolutely free ticket to the Homecoming game.

Many special events, in addition to the traditional decorating contest, were held during Spirit Week. All the halls and the cafeteria exhibited the creative effort of faithful workers as the seniors won first place with a "Streaks in the halls of time" theme, and the juniors won second place with a "Farm" theme. On Colors Day, the more spirited class members wore the designated hues: seniors — red, white, and blue; juniors — blue; sophomores — red; and freshmen — white. The most participation was on Farmer Day. Over 80% of the students dressed up to support the Streaks against T.A. country folk. Farmer Day was also highlighted by one of the best pep rallies H.H.S. has ever seen.

The talent assembly this year was, without a doubt, a true success! Many musically talented people participated such as the members of The Morning Glory Band and The Budapest String Quartet. The "Sunshine Girls" brought us some light with their music. Getting into the beat, "V + 1" (the Varsity cheerleader plus Alisa Painter) displayed their modern dance abilities. Jenneill Beasley entertained us with a hilarious monologue about (shudder) creeping underwear! Altogether, these creative students and faculty made a variety show worthy of Blue Streak support.

Christmas of 1977, although not a white one, was a pleasant one for H.H.S. students. The Christmas assembly included the Madrigal Choir, Chorus, Triple Trio, and the Band. The annual door decorating contest went well. There was one minor mishap when the art class, in an attempt to bring some realism to their display, glued their instructor to the door. They were disqualified however, because their entry had taken a breakfast break when the judges came. All in all the students agreed that their teacher was a good sport about the whole thing. (If you believe this one, you were damaged in the Easter ice storm.)

It was an unseasonably warm Saturday afternoon. Streak supporters were gathered at the University Hall in Charlottesville. The State Single A game had just ended and the Harrisonburg crowd moved in to take the place of the Cumberland fans. We were welcomed with the warming promise, "This is the winning side." The atmosphere was tense but confident and the stage was set for the AA State Championship Basketball game between the Harrisonburg Blue Streaks and the Bruton Panthers from Williamsburg. The crowd got ready for some heavy-duty cheering — the buzzer signalling the beginning of the first quarter rang — and the rest is history.

"Gypsy" — A Success

Although some questions were raised about the morality of this years musical, it turned out to be one of the most popular ever. The plot centers around a pushy stage mother named Rose (played by an amazing Brenda Burtner) who is determined to have her daughters make it big in show business. She fusses on the younger daughter (played by Cindy Leach as a child and Cindy O'Neal when grown up) until she drives her out; then she focuses her attention on Louise (played by Cheryl Hornberg and then Lisa Foltz). Blee Moffett plays Herbie, Rose's male friend, who acts as their agent. He accidentally books them into a house of burlesque. Here Louise (alias Gypsy Rose Lee) is introduced to the stripper style by Mazeppa (Alice Mangum), Electra (Jenny Fisher) and Tessie Tura (Karen LaSala.) Louise takes it from there and becomes one of the highest paid strippers ever.

The theme for the 1978 Prom was the Orient. Accordingly, the figures featured a boat and the Chinese symbols for sun, man, and woman. The couples also formed a 78 in honor of the graduating class. The band, "Iced Melon" played an outstanding selection of music for couples to enjoy amid peacocks, tori, landscapes, and gardens. A new parachute put the final touch on a prom to remember.

Bill Bergstrom of Campus Life gave the invocation, and Doug Jackson introduced Reggie Smith from the Virginia Education Association. Mr. Smith challenged the class members to understand and achieve happiness. After Barry Lambert reviewed the class achievements, Mr. Bowers awarded the diplomas, and Mr. Buhl closed the exercises with humorous but important remarks in typical Buhl style. Blue Streaks tie for first place in District

Norman Goins crashes through the defensive line.

The key to the Varsity team this year was dedication and hard work. Some would have quit after losing the first three games of the season, but the Varsity Streaks kept on trying and won six out of the next seven games. These were not easy games to win; the Streaks played some of the toughest teams in the district. Graduating seniors Tommy Showalter, Pat Sweet, Scot Garber, Lester Mcall, Jeff Salem, Barry Lambert, Mark Kimata, Ricky Lingon, Pat Eckenrode, and Russell Dickerson made a great contribution to the team and will be difficult to replace. Coach Brownie Cummins said that from the coaching standpoint; this team was the most enjoyable. It was his opinion that their persistance throughout the season made them the best team in the district. Most of the players agree that the Lee game was the best of the season. Leemen expected to down the Streaks and improve their 7-1 record, but our boys pulled through and demolished the over-confident Leemen. The final score, 24-0, proved the Streaks worthy of the District Championship, which they held with Waynesboro and Lee.

STREAKS ARE NUMBER ONE!

Streaks wait for the start of another big game.

Pat Sweet and Mark Clatterbuck check out the situation.

Pat Eckenrode displays the ability that won him many awards.

Streakettes Stand Out

The Girls' Basketball Team tied for third in District with a 13-9 record. The girls started the season slowly but improved at a rapid pace. By mid season the team was playing well as a unit. Along with outstanding individuals in games, a host of girls added key plays at the right times. Val Sampson and Carol Johnson were the main stays on the boards, while Lora Hanson and Angie Wright were the floor leaders. The team played well in the District Tournament beating Lexington 48-33 and then losing a hard fought game to Waynesboro 66-59. Coach Myers was very pleased with the improvements made by the girls this year. It was hard work that produced these changes and will hopefully make the future an era of dominance by the Streakettes.

Sampson out reaches her opponent.

Coach Meyers shows the team the finer points of his nose.

Hanson up for two.

Doug Jackson on the run.

The Key to Cross Country

Knowing how to score a cross country meet is essential for understanding the sport itself. In a meet, the first place runner gets one point, second place gets two points, and so on. The main objective is to get the whole team up front and close together (to obtain the lowest score). At home meets, the runner's course starts at Westover Park, goes down Dogwood, and finishes back at the entrance of the park.

There were 13 runners on the squad this year. Although seniors Doug Jackson and Rusty Mason will be missed, the team has great potential and will be a tough competitor.

The number one and two runners, Rusty Mason and Cris Dedmond, both were All-District. The team as a whole was fourth in the District.

FALL HIGHLIGHTS: Super Atheletes Start Year

(L. to R.) Ricky Lingon, Coach Boland, Jeff Salem, Pat Eckenrode.

Rusty Mason

(L. to R.) Lora Hanson, Angie Wright, Carol Johnson.

Cris Dedmond

In the 1978 Taj, we have decided to give special recognition to some outstanding sports people. We realize that every Blue Streak is essential for a winning team, but we've selected specific people who deserve special honor for their achievements.

On the Varsity Football team Jeff Salem was chosen for second All-State for his position as nose guard. Pat Eckenrode received honorable mention All-State for the same position. Ricky Lingon made second team All-Regional as defensive tackle and end. The Varsity Girls' Basketball team starred guards Lora Hanson (first team All-District) and Angie Wright (second team All-District), with forward Carol Johnson (second team All-District). Both Rusty Mason and Cris Dedmond were selected All-District for their exceptional running performance.

Varsity B'ball takes State!

What can be said? The Varsity Basketball team was outstanding throughout the entire season. They romped over almost every team they played, one time beating Lexington with an 100 point score. The most fearsome foe they encountered during the regular season was Lee High. In Staunton, the Streaks faced one downfall, but the Leemen were beaten when they ventured to Streak territory. Our boys surrendered the District Tournament to Lee, but were still regular District champs. In the fifth and final game against the Leemen, the one that counted, the Streaks put Lee down with a last second shot in overtime by Russell Dickerson. This intense game won the team the Regional title and a chance for State.

In the semi-finals, the Streaks crushed Blacksburg and, for the first time since 1952, Harrisonburg High School won the State AA Basketball Championship with a 70-57 victory over the Bruton Panthers.

Steffan Carter gets down to some heavy running.

Due to a lack of facilities, indoor track does not have a regular dual meet schedule like other sports. Most of the meets are invitationals with 10 to 20 teams. The team placed a respectable third in district, beating T.A. for the first time in 10 years. The Streaks capped off their season by finishing in the top half in the State meet. In all, the team broke 12 out of 15 indoor records.

Young Team Surprises

Gymnasts all over the country say that gymnastics is the only true sport. Truly, just watching a meet tires the spectators. The girls won the District Championship by beating T.A., Lexington, and Western Albemarle. By winning district, practically the whole team qualified for Regionals where Individual winners were Abby Powell, who was fifth on bars and seventh on floor, and Dana Spitzer, who was eleventh on floor.

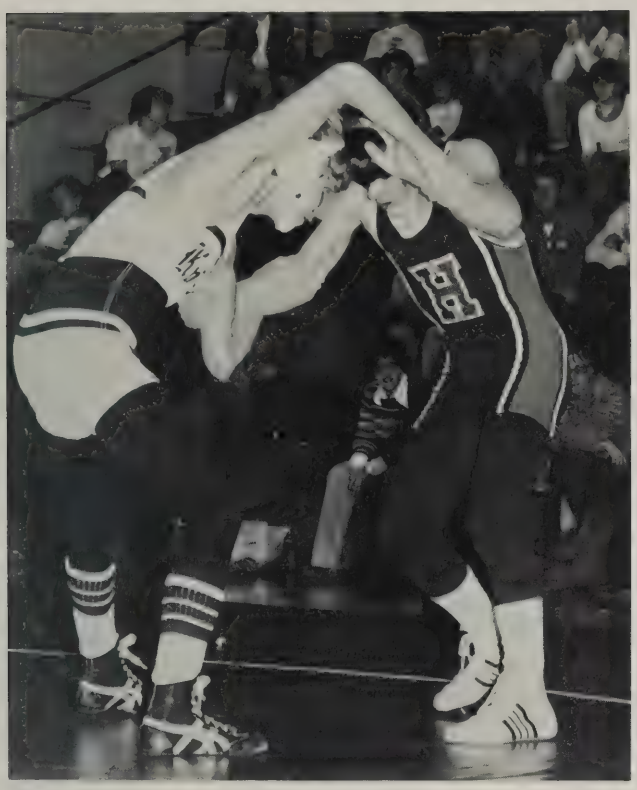
Jim Kostis attempts to set up for a take down.



Five Wrestlers to State

The 4-5 record of the '77-'78 wrestling team doesn't do the squad justice; four out of the five losses were by six points or less (the equivalent of one individual match). The team was second in the Valley District competition with five individual champs, more than any other district team. These wrestlers were Larry Savides (112), Alex Boyar (110), Jim Kostis (126), George Kostis (145), and Jim Conis (185). The Blue Streak wrestlers placed fourth in the Region out of 20 teams. Placing first in Region was Jim Conis; second, George Kostis and Larry Savides; third, Alex Boyar; and fourth, Jim Kostis. The team finished 11th in the AA State Championship. George Kostis was first in his weight class. He is the only H.H.S. wrestler to win two state champion titles. Alex Boyar and Jim Conis both placed fifth in state. Altogether, this was a successful season. Seven of the twelve varsity wrestlers had little experience, but they made great progress during the season. The future looks bright for H.H.S. wrestling.

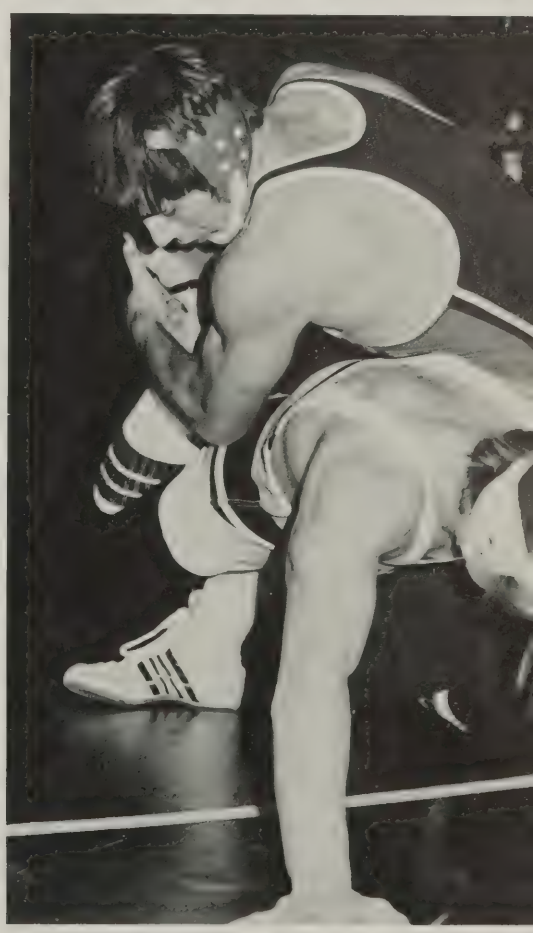
FALL HIGHLIGHTS: State Basketball Champions; Gymnasts win District; Kostis takes State!

The moment of victory at Charlottesville.

The winter of 1978 brought an abundance of spectacular athletes. In gymnastics, the girls won first in district despite the fact that two important members of the team were suffering from injuries at the time of the district meet. George Kostis, for the second year in a row, overpowered his opponents and clenched the state title for the 145 pound weight class in wrestling. Perhaps the most outstanding highlight of the season and the year was the H.H.S. Basketball team. The team, lead by Lingon, Dickerson, Hall, Garber, Knicely, and Sampson, won the Virginia State AA Championship for the first time in twenty-six years.

The champions display their trophy.



Kostis proves his superior ability.

Tennis: Young Teams hold Promise of

The Girls' Tennis Team ended their season with an impressive 10-5 record, and tied for second in the district. Worried glances were exchanged by all opponents when they realized that five out of the top seven players were underclassmen. Freshmen Ginny Hoover and Susan Roberson took the number one and two positions, maintaining winning records despite tough competition. Lora Hanson, a senior playing number three, continued her winning streak of past years and provided entertainment for the team on trips to away games. At number four, Katie Hanlon's consistant game added valuable points for the team. Senior Julie Kosnik contributed spirit and hustle at her number five position. Undefeated Liz Graves proved to be the highlight of the team at number six. Her superior athletic ability allowed her to breeze through her first season. The doubles teams of Hanson-Hoover, Kosnik-Roberson, and Hanlon-Wheatley further added to the victories of the season. Bryan, Hunter, and Martin played on doubles teams and along with manager McBride, they boosted team morale throughout the season. Although the team lost their chance for Regional competition to Lee, the season on the whole was a success. Next year, with the benefits of strength and experience, the team will pose a formidable threat to any opponent.

Future Blue Streak Victories

J.T. Turner works on his over-head shot.

At a glance, the over-all record for the Boys' Tennis Team reflects a rather disappointing season. However, considering that the team was made up of virtually all underclassmen and had only one returning starter, 1978 provided an opportunity to build an experienced team. For the first time ever, all twelve players lettered. Greg Dellinger, jumping from number six to number one position, was district runner-up and went to Regionals. The Whitmer-Dellinger doubles team was District Champion. Freshmen Holland Gravely also had an outstanding season, winning ten of his matches. George Aldhizer and J.T. Turner developed strong games by the end of the season. At the Handley Invitational the Streaks did extremely well, defeating AAA Jefferson County and losing to Handley by only one point. In the future, with twelve returning players, the Boys' Tennis team will overwhelm their district competitors.

An Outstanding Season for the Girls' . . .

This year the Girls' Track Team really outdid themselves. They finished their regular season meets undefeated with a 9-0 record. They won the City-County Championship and were 2nd in the District, 4th in Regionals and named the top team at the Radford Relays. The girls broke 9 of our school records. For the first time since the origin of the Girls' Track team (4 years ago), they beat T.A., R.E. Lee, Broadway, and Charlottesville. Leading scorers were Carol Johnson (131.5), Carol Schroeder (95), and Valerie Sampson (71.5). Graduating seniors are Martha Kennedy, Nicky Lingon, Theresa Mullen, Lori Rhodes, Carmen Suter, and Beth Simon.

It was a record breaking year for the H.H.S. Boys' Track Team. Rolland Dickerson broke the old high jump record by one inch with a 6'2" jump. The 440 relay team, (Lester Pouncey, Hank Heath, Tim Bunnemeyer, Steffan Carter) broke the record with a 45.5 second time. Setting a new record, the shuttle hurdle relay team made a 68.4 second time. Making up the high scorers on the team were Steffan Carter, (82.75 pts.), Tim Buennemeyer (76.25 pts.), and Hank Heath (68.25 pts.). The team had a 5-1-3 season and placed fifth in District. This year, for the first time ever, H.H.S. held a Co-ed Track Meet. It was an invitational and consisted entirely of events that alternated boys and girls.

Baseball Does Well Despite Tough Season

Although Varsity Baseball did not win the district championship, the season was a successful one. The over-all record was 14-6 and 7-5 in the district. Toward the middle of the season, the Streaks demolished Western Albemarle with a score of 16-5. In the games against Waynesboro and Lee, the Streaks pulled from behind for exciting victories. Exceptional individual efforts aided the team in maintaining their high record. Four players hit a home run in the game against Lee, and seven in the Handley game. Seniors Dickerson, Knicely, Sweet, Keister, and Leake contributed greatly throughout the season.

The Girls' Softball Team had a disappointing start in the '78 season, losing a number of their first games. However, at mid-season the team pulled together and became a fierce competitor. Winning seven out of their last eight games, the team ended with a respectable 8-8 record. Seniors Sis Riggs, Angie Wright, and Kathy Preston aided the team with their experience and strong play. Wright was the leading hitter on the team. The seven sophomores and three juniors returning next year will be a threat in the district.

J.V.'s In Action: Baseball and Girls' Basketball

Leading scorer, Susan Roberson

This year's J.V. Girls' Basketball Team was a younger one than usual. The players were inexperienced — only four girls returned from last year. The 6 - 14 record shows that the team faced tough competition, but excellent individual talent was displayed. The youthfulness of the squad promises strong teams for both Varsity and J.V. next year.

Way to watch 'em Joey!

The J.V. Baseball Team this year started off their season well, highlighting their season with wins over Turner Ashby and Lee High. Bad weather forced many of the games to be postponed, and this lapse hurt the team. Their record for the season was 7-8. There were four tenth graders, six ninth graders, and nine eight graders on the team this year.

At Regionals the girls' 880-relay team of Sampson, Johnson, Hurt, and Fisher finished 3rd. Beth Simon placed 4th in the discus, and Carol Johnson was 5th in the 220-yard dash. Alison Butler placed 4th in the 440-yard dash. Successful Sophomores

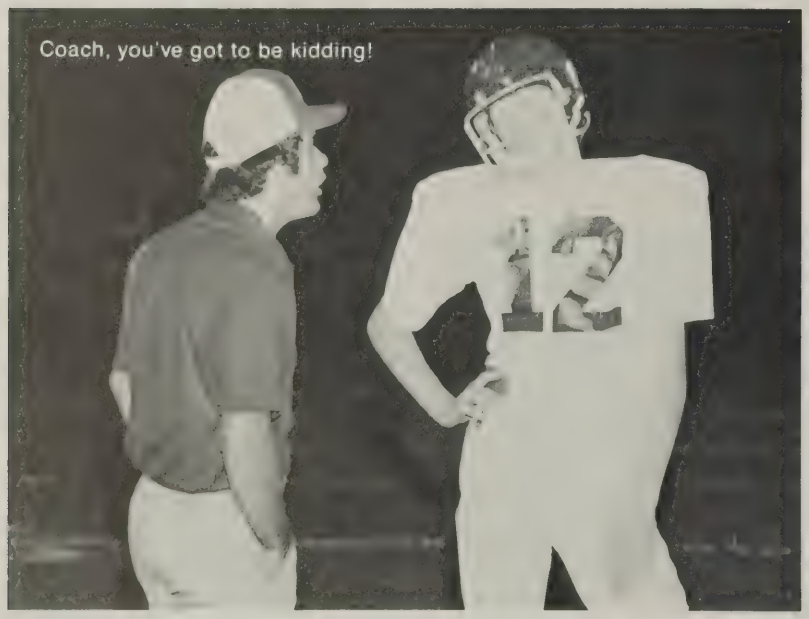
The team listens attentively to some words of wisdom from Coach Mitchell.

The sophomores kicked off the season by overpowering Lee, and continuted undefeated for the following six games. Their fifth game however, was a forfeit by Broadway. This break in the routine almost took its toll in the Handley game, but the team managed a great comeback and won 14-12. In the following game against Madison County, they did not fare so well and lost 0-8.

There were many new faces this year; some of the boys had never even played on a team before. Despite the fact that it was basically an inexperienced team, they had a decisively successful season. The team was coached by Mr. Mullen and Mr. Wheelbarger.



Coach, you've got to be kidding!

Junior Varsity Goes Undefeated

What started out as a very inexperienced and physically small Junior Varsity football squad turned out to be "pound for pound the hardest hitting team around." For the second year in a row, they were undefeated. They now boast a sixteen game winning streak, and they have won twenty-four of their last twenty-five games. "I am very proud of this team," says Coach Sam Mitchell, "I feel that they played as near to their potential as any team I have ever coached."

Fantastic J.V. Year

The J.V. team went undefeated this year. It was a good team all over; they had good back-up players, good shooters, speed, and were excellent passers. It was their team effort and unity that won a thrilling one-point victory over Lee. Coach Meyers said that the team did everything possible to prepare for Varsity play, and added, "that's what it's all about."

Freshman Basketball

No, Russell, you can't keep them.

The fellowship of Christian Athletes, under the direction of Coach Roger Bergey and Coach Sam Mitchell, is an organization whose objective is to serve the community and to enable Christian athletes to meet and discuss religion and life. Each bi-monthly meeting includes values clarification, readings from "Christian Athletes", scriptures and discussions on various topics. The main activity of the F.C.A. is the annual Christmas Drive in which food, clothing, and toys are collected, sorted, and distributed to the needy.

Cheerleaders are A-L-R-I-G-H-T!

The 1978 cheerleaders were a peppy and bouncy bunch. They were also hard workers; they practiced all summer and attended cheerleading camp at J.M.U. Our girls placed 3rd out of 30 schools and won 3 blue ribbons. They sponsored two pep rallies — one for basketball and one for football. The Varsity cheerleaders yell and scream for Varsity Football, Varsity Girls' Basketball and Boys' Varsity Basketball. The J.V. cheerleaders scream and yell for J.V. Football, Sophomore Football, J.V. Girls' Basketball, Freshman Basketball, J.V. Boys' Basketball, and Wrestling (J.V. and Varsity). The girls also sold "Go Blue" and "Go Blue Streaks" buttons. They don't get any real profit from selling these buttons; they get money for uniforms from selling programs. Mrs. Bonnie Anderson is the sponsor for the cheerleaders and she was also responsible for "Spirit Week."

A New Band Director —

The band put on a new face this year, under the skillful direction of the new band director, Mr. Ray Landreth. The nouveau band was great, and many audiences (at football games, etc.) did not hesitate to give them standing ovations. They placed first in the Christmas Parade, second in the Veteran's Day Parade, and had a full-page write-up in the Daily News-Record.

They were accompanied by a group of 14 girls, known as the Color Guard, who carry flags and add flash to the performances.

The Mod Squad

The Drill Team, "Marching Streakettes" as they are referred to in the Handbook, saw a few changes this year. The new band director initiated a new way of marching, but the D.T. girls adjusted. For those uneducated few who don't know what a Drill Team is, it is a group of 20 some girls and the sponsor, Mrs. Coffman, who get together at 8:00 a.m. every morning and try to coordinate their arms, legs, etc. to make a routine worthy of a football or basketball half-time show or a parade. The secret is to make it look easy. If you think it is easy, think again!!!

The key is concentration — 2 - 3 - 4.

Concert Band
Jazz Band

Mr. Landreth's brilliant touch enabled the Concert Band to play grade 5 music at the District Band Festival this year and to receive a superior rating. Superior is the best rating and only grade 6 music is more difficult than grade 5. The band presented two concerts and attended a national band competition at the Apple Blossom Festival where they received an excellent rating.

The Jazz Band, whose members practiced on their own time, played for school assemblies. They also played for groups around the city.

Their activities this year included an initiation picnic, a Halloween party, Christmas caroling, and running the concession stand at the J.V. and Sophomore Football games. International Fiesta turned out to be their most successful project. $100 of the proceeds will go towards a scholarship fund for a senior who plans to continue his education in languages. The Future Business Leaders meet once a month and have as their activities giving corsages to the school's secretaries during National Secretary Week, participating in the March of Dimes Walkathon, and stuffing Christmas stockings. They also run the school bookstore. We had 8 people participate in the Regional FBLA competition which was held at JMU. They were: Susan Salem, Clerk Typist; Felicia Banks, Miss FBLA; Vicki Grimm, Office procedures; Sandy McDonaldson, Accounting; Kay Eye, Typing; Teresa Shipe, Bulletin Board; George Blakey, Arithmetic, and Christine Whitelowe, Communications (spelling).

Of the Books, by the Books, and for the Books

The library council is open to any student who is interested in hanging around books. The library council members work in the library shelving, carding, stamping books, etc. This year the council had a Halloween party at the Stickley's barn where they played games and read a few scarey novels (just kidding on the latter). They had a pizza party at the Pizza Hut and took a trip to Richmond. To raise money, the members have a Book Fair where they sell books to students and faculty. They also get in good with the teachers by supplying refreshments to the faculty during one work day (usually during exams).

Streaks on the Stage of Life

(Right) "Thank youuuuu very much."

The Drama Club presented two one-act plays this year. They were "Diary" which received an "excellent" rating at the Valley District One-Act Play Festival and "Three on a Bench." The Drama Club members also wrote a number of skits and had some JMU students help them with movement skills.

The members also attended the Virginia High School League Drama Workshop and helped usher for plays at the Community Activities Center.

(Right) And the flower said . . .

I told you not to play your guitar this late at night.

You don't say!!

Talk, Talk, Talk

Kitty, Cheryl, and Tito get the feel of the podium.

Forensics is sponsored by the English department. It provides good training for people who will need to speak before an audience sometime in their lives. It helps to develop poise, self-confidence, and ease when speaking in front of a group.

The categories for competition are original oratory, extemporaneous oratory, prose reading, poetry reading, and spelling.

This year, Doug Jackson went to State in boy's original oratory. He prepared and delivered a speech on the Panama Canal Treaty.

S.C.A. — The Pace Setters

The ever-important and ever-hungry Executive Committee.

The S.C.A. is the pulse of the school and is responsible for all of the non-athletic activities. Among other things, the S.C.A. organizes Homecoming, the Student Handbook, Senior citizens Program, Student-Faculty Volleyball, Student Take-over Day, Newstreak, the Ushers, and the Honor Council (which tries the cases of students who are suspected of cheating).

The representatives are the vital link between the student body and the S.C.A. The representatives main reason for being is to establish a line of communication — if they don't do their job, the link is lost.

The Executive Committee consists of the elected S.C.A. officers, class presidents, and standing committee chairmen. Their job is to approve projects and new clubs; they carry out a lot of the work of the S.C.A.

Just another duty of an S.C.A. member.

Who cheated? Only the honor council knows for sure.

(Left) The Ushers, without whose help there would be total chaos at H.H.S. assemblies.

Jim Crouch votes confidently.

NEWS STREAK

seidutS laicepS

This was the second year for the Special Studies Program, the purpose of which is to provide enrichment and to broaden the horizons of intellectually qualified individuals. The members of this group are students who have scored 120 or 95 percentile and above on a standarized ability test. Twenty-five students scoring the highest on the qualifying test and who wish to participate are chosen. Their activities this year included field trips to such places as the Newport News Shipyard and a Federal Reserve Installation. They also had Operation Awareness Programs in the areas of economics, language, science, literature, and sports. The students attended cultural events such as plays at the Virginia museum. They also attended seminars and worked independently on individual projects.

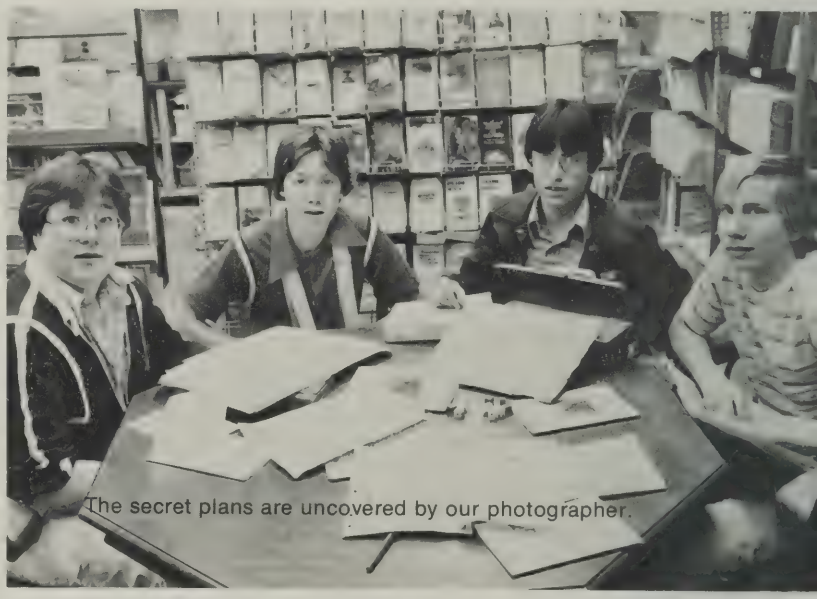
D. and D.

The War Games Club, despite popular rumor, is not designed for those mentally affected sadists who relish in death and destruction by war. Not at all, in fact, it is for those who enjoy games of strategy and excitement. The members say their favorite game is one set in medieval times that features characters who go on dungeon adventures. Some of the characters are from Tolkien's trilogy The Lord of the Rings. The War Games Club is probably the "meetingest" club at school. Members meet during lunch, after school, and between classes whenever they can arrange it. If that isn't enough, they often meet at the homes of members on Saturday afternoons.

Andy creates his diabolical scheme.

The fate of War Games?



The secret plans are uncovered by our photographer.

Chris chuckles as he heartlessly wipes out Ken.

National Society Honors Outstanding Students

Doug confuses Alice with his ability to read up-side-down.

The National Honor Society's purpose is to honor students who are outstanding in academics, and involved in school activities. To be elected for membership, a sophomore must have at least a 3.5 average; juniors and seniors must have maintained a 3.0. The students are chosen by the entire faculty and in four categories: scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The only activity of the society is the tapping and induction ceremony which takes place in the late spring.

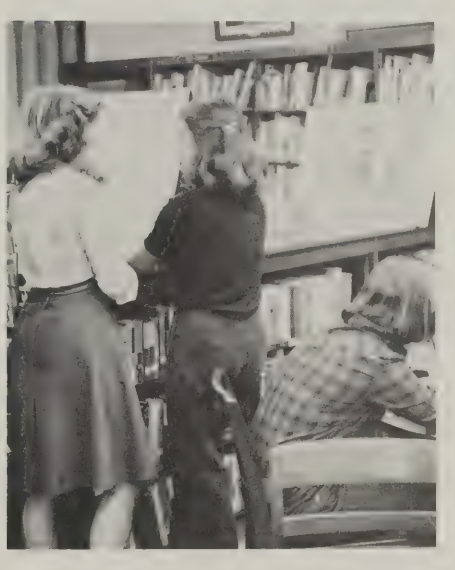
Karen laughs at Julie's art ability.



"That's my letter to Dear Abby."

Steve and Andy demonstrate their literary tastes.

New Clubs Pop Up at H.H.S.

No, SODA isn't a coke drinking club. As a matter of fact, it is an organization designed by H.H.S. students to talk about their values, and to present moral issues to younger children. They held seminars at Spotswood School.

A group of students got together this year to form an organization for people interested in art and in expanding their knowledge of art. Working with Mr. Olmstead as their sponsor, the group participated in some interesting activities. They went sketching on a farm in the country, worked hard on the sets for the musical, and had a picnic. Several members participated in a local art exhibit and did very well. Next year, the group hopes to expand its activities to Ah, perfection!

Now are you sure they aren't clay?

Dear Taj Staff:

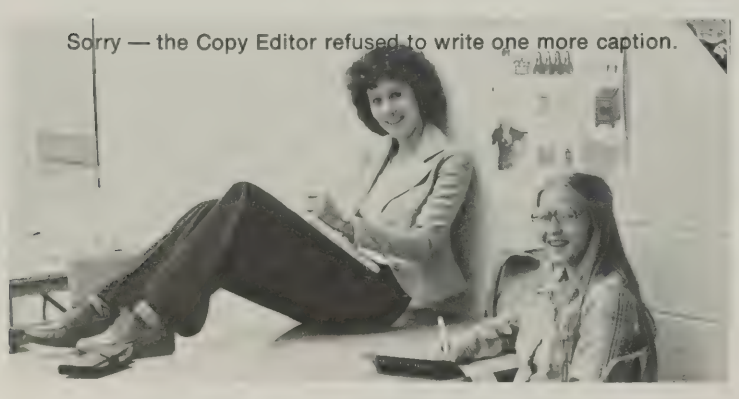
A combination of late night work, MacDonald's dinners, and dedication has produced the finest book H.H.S. has ever had, thanks to you. Pavy, Erika, Bruce, Shawna, Lori, Karen, Tanya, Khristina, Ken, Greg, and Carolyn, your work has been priceless. I'd like to personally thank all the editors: Sheila with her masses of tape; Mary for her help on Classes; Susan Wine and Jody for their selling tactics; Susan Allen for her nimble fingers; Barbara who saved two deadlines; Sarah for all her "Life"; Shawn for the "pics"; Andy for his patient indexing; Abby for her "organizationing," and Jenny, who along with Sports, copy, and miscellaneous details, forced me to laugh no matter what the situation. Finally Mrs. Powell, not only did you spend unlimited hours taking time to listen to each person, buy cupcakes and TAB, but you did all these things with a patient compassionate devotion. In the endless hours we've spent together you have become a leader, a mother, and a friend.

As the final pages are proofread and sent, I am lost at the thought of it all ending. Some of my fondest memories are held within the covers of this book. Laughing, pushing, working, and knowing all of you has given me a glimpse of all you are and can be. It will be difficult to leave all the beauty I have found.

Love ya, Julie Koz

Master Koz lends Mary a helping hand.

This is all you have?



Sorry — the Copy Editor refused to write one more caption.

It is the time we have spent together that changes us from crowds to individuals, from acquaintances to life-long friends. At that moment when we erased the barriers of our impressions, overlooked the title, name and reputation, we took our first step. It was at that point that we realized that we are capable of loving who we are instead of the image of the person we might have been. As you venture from the security of your home to carry on your life — remember this secret. It is the part of yourself without the mask that makes you what you are.
